SUMMER TERM – WEEK 3

Weekly Newsletter

Welcome

Three weeks into the Summer term and the fantastic work keeps coming in through all our teacher's inboxes.

As many of you may know, there will be an update over the weekend on how we are moving forward in the next phase of recovery from COVID-19.

I will continue to keep you updated with what the school are doing and the impact this will have on our school community.

We are currently working on building an online learning platform for Home learning and we will update you with guidance and support on how we are going to best use this.

Keep safe,

Mr. T Timson

Acting Headteacher

Our School Community

Special mention from Mrs England to say we've really enjoyed doing Zoom with the children. From next week some of the other teachers in school will also be having a go (temporarily) before we try something even better!

Thank you to everyone who has got in touch with lovely messages as we continue to navigate this difficult time in education. Mrs England has received some very positive feedback from parents about learning packs etc and it really is appreciated.

Proving he's bouncing along nicely at home, Henry has created this great artwork of a frog!

Putting his LEGO skills to the test, Henry has created a tomb complete with its own sliding door.

Jessie has written a very special prayer to say thank you to the NHS and everyone who is working hard to keep things running at the moment.

What better way to learn all about Egypt than with a super bright Egyptian timeline? We love it Ruby!

Lots of us have been taking to the kitchen to hone our baking skills – including Filip who has whipped up a batch of delicious cookies!

This colourful masterpiece wouldn't look out of place at the Portrait Gallery! Well done to artist Allaryce.

People have been displaying signs in their windows in support of the NHS – Ella has created this rather wonderful piece!

‘And now these three remain: faith, hope and love. But the greatest of these is love.’ (1 Corinthians 13:13)

Frankie has been getting his maths game on and working out all sorts of different balances.

Busy bakers Cora and Nancy created a whole range of tasty goodies for their family to enjoy!

Thank you for the lovely message!

Special Shout-outs

- Congratulations to Henry Robinson who has made it through to the next round of the 500 words writing competition!
- Meanwhile in school, pupils have been creating some art pieces ready for Mass on Wednesday!

Poem by Freyja Stewart - based on the poem The Rainbow Children by Gemma Peacock

We will look back at this and thank those who risked their lives

Cared for the unwell and the sick.

Everyone just dreams there'd be some magic trick.

We clap from our doors at eight.

The NHS and frontline workers are all doing so great.

We can't see our friends for real, but we can call

It's scary going out but not for all.

Life may never be the same

We walked along with our friends.

Going out to meet people of fame.

So, stay strong, there is a way

Our lives won't always be dull and grey.

Look at the rainbows in windows as a start.

Think of those doctors and nurses with a kind heart.
